Storm Door Recommendation - December 2005

At the request of the Board of Directors, the Architecture Committee has investigated and discussed the approved styles of storm doors for the Association. The committee recommends the following:

Approved and preferred

Approved

NOT approved

The committee believes that the typical fullview door as shown on the left is greatly preferred due to the aesthetics. This is the only style of storm door that was allowed by Regency, and the vast majority of doors in the Association are of this type.

The committee believes that the middle door with a center bar is acceptable due to functionality concerns, although it is aesthetically not as preferable as the first option.

The committee believes that the door shown on the right, with a larger bottom stile, should not be permissible due to aesthetics.

Finally, the committee recommends that all storm doors must be white. No other colors should be allowed. The individual unit owners may choose between gold and silver/nickel hardware on the door at their own preference.
